On 25th December 2017 (i.e. Quaid Day), 10 volunteers decided to spend a day out with the children of the College Lower-Staff Community. First, the cadets took a round of the College Community and conducted a census to find out the number of children residing there. Then, after assembling the children in the Community Park, the cadets played various games, held information & entertainment sessions and interesting quizzes, and conducted a Clean-Up Drive. At the end of the day, the community children were happy at a day-well-spent while the cadets were contented to have served the community well.

On February 28, 2018, Government Special Education Center Hasanabdal invited the Youth Club of Cadet College Hasan Abdal to organize some activities for disabled children on their Annual Day. Cadets, with relevance to the event, used simplified visual signals to narrate the theme of how every member of society is valuable and must be united for the progress of their country. This allowed the special children to comprehend the drama to the best.
